

Welcome to Watertown, Massachusetts

This is the most up-to-date multi-lingual resource map currently available for residents. It shows the location of many public and private resources and describes facilities, services, as well as address and telephone number.

Locations are marked on the map, and descriptions translated in to Armenian (Western), Chinese, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish, as well as English.

This project came about through a committee of volunteers and town employees, with the goal of helping newcomers and non-English speakers feel more comfortable and knowledgeable about their community.

The map is now available, in paper copy, free of charge at many locations throughout the community.

This map has been produced by The World of Watertown, in cooperation with Project Literacy of the Watertown Free Public Library, the Parent Child Home Program, and the Watertown Police Department.

Funding for this project is provided by the Watertown/Harvard and Watertown/O'Neill Properties Community Enrichment Fund, Watertown Rotary Club, and the Helen Robinson Wright Fund of the First Parish of Watertown.

With special thanks to Natasha Bashenova, Nelly Luna, Carlos Machado, Aram Sarkissian, and Sue Wang – Translators; Leslie Evans – Map Designer; Kathy Warren, Leslie Evans – Photos
